

Bulk Power Energy Storage Scheduling and Dispatch Rights Request for Proposals

APPENDIX C8

Instructions

Bidders can adjust non-binding components of their Offers between Phase One and Phase Two of the procurement. However, any changes a bidder makes to their Phase One application must be disclosed and explained to Consolidated Edison Company of New York and/or Orange & Rockland. Information that is identified as only being needed for Phase Two does not need to be indicated as a change.

Indication of Changes. If bidder determines that changes to their application should be made, then the bidder shall provide:

- (1) a mark-up of the Phase One application appendices to indicate proposed changes, with specific additions (bold and underlined) and deletions (~~strike through~~) marked, and
- (2) a separate document with a table in the format provided below explaining each change the bidder made to the Phase One application.

Table. 1 Proposed Changes to Phase One Offer

Appendix/ Section #	Proposed Change	Explanation of Change

Additional Notes

Any revisions in a mark-up of the form of any Phase One appendices not explained in the table provided by bidder may be disregarded by Consolidated Edison Company of New York and/or Orange & Rockland.

Any proposed changes may negatively impact the competitiveness of a bid. This includes changes that would affect the value of bidder's proposal, modify the risks and benefits provided for in the response, or are commercially or legally unacceptable in the sole judgment of Consolidated Edison Company of New York and/or Orange & Rockland.
